Michael D. Wiant

Since 1952, the Illinois State Museum Society has promoted the programs and welfare of the Illinois State Museum. Membership, generous donations, and grants and contracts administered by the Society have provided funds for collection acquisition and care, research, and educational programs and exhibits that otherwise would not have been possible. Now—more than ever before—investment in the Museum Society will allow us to share the natural and cultural heritage of Illinois far beyond the walls of our buildings to generations of those curious about the world and how it works. Please join us as we explore, discover, learn, and share!
